

A STEP CLOSER TO THE NEW RESEARCH HUB

Lions Eye Institute is partnering with the Western Australian Institute for Medical Research (WAIMR) to build a centre for research excellence within the Queen Elizabeth II (QEII) Medical Centre.

The 10 storey research hub will be home to several organisations in Western Australia including LEI, UWA and WAIMR.

The move into a new state-of-the-art research facility, along with the upgrade to LEI's current premises, will ensure continuing access to the highest quality facilities and equipment – both of which are essential to attracting and retaining the best researchers and clinicians from within Australia and around the world.

Construction of the $100 million facility is scheduled for completion later this year.

Architect's rendition of the new building

